

NBTAM: Characters and Characterization

Name: _____

Date: _____ Pd.: _____

1. Who are the Seven C's? List their names (first and last) and give a description for each, using your own words. Provide at least one piece of textual evidence for each.

Character Name:	Description: Include physical traits, personality traits, and interests.	Excerpt from the text that supports part of your description. Use quotation marks correctly and provide the page number.

- What kind of information do we know about these characters through direct characterization?
Through indirect characterization?

2. Complete the following charts for each of the main characters. Provide at least one piece of textual evidence to support each of your answers.

Chloe Preston

Question:	Answer, in your own words:	Textual support: Excerpt from the text that supports at least part of your answer. Use quotation marks correctly and provide the page number.
Approximate Age:
What does she look like?
Describe her personality.
What kind of student does she seem to be?
What do we know about her family members? What is her relationship like with them?
What are the conflicts she is facing?
What do you learn about her by the way she deals with the conflicts? Explain.

- What kind of information do we know about Chloe through direct characterization? Through indirect characterization?

Rob Callahan

Question:	Answer, in your own words:	Textual support: Excerpt from the text that supports at least part of your answer. Use quotation marks correctly and provide the page number.
Approximate Age:
What does he look like?
Describe his personality.
What kind of student does he seem to be?
What do we know about his family members? What is his relationship like with them?
What are the conflicts he is facing?
What do you learn about him by the way he deals with the conflicts? Explain.

- What kind of information do we know about Rob through direct characterization? Through indirect characterization?

Austin Walker

Question:	Answer, in your own words:	Textual support: Excerpt from the text that supports at least part of your answer. Use quotation marks correctly and provide the page number.
Approximate Age:
What does he look like?
Describe his personality.
What kind of student does he seem to be?
What do we know about his family members? What is his relationship like with them?
What are the conflicts he is facing?
What do you learn about him by the way he deals with the conflicts? Explain.

- What kind of information do we know about Austin through direct characterization? Through indirect characterization?